

NEW HEART BEAT DEVOTIONS

Twister Warning

We were at a relative's wedding in Ropesville, Texas located somewhere outside of Lubbock. (The town got its name because cattlemen used ropes for fencing.) Population is under 1,000. There is one little store, no paved roads, and one shelter in the church basement.

While we were there the twister-warning siren went off. The TV also said possible twisters in area. We were ready to head to the shelter, but our relatives said to ignore the alarm. "It goes off all the time." They were right, the next day it went off again. By the third day, the warnings meant nothing to us. But that third day, a twister did come and blow a roof off in the next town. What if it would have COME to our house and we ignore the warnings?

Is the Holy Spirit giving us warnings about a particular sin? Is our conscience repeatedly saying, "Do not do that." Are we ignoring the spiritual sirens? The only thing to do when temptation comes is to run to God's shelter.

"...but with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it" I Cor 10:13

Charles L. Stambaugh

9/2016 updated

Creative Commons Attribution-Noncommercial 4.0 International License

